

The Numbers Game

A recent study provides evidence that increased doctor-patient ratios improve health outcomes for patients – regardless of whether the provider is a medical doctor or a doctor of chiropractic:

SOURCE: Hart J. Correlation of health outcomes with physician and chiropractor ratios in the United States. Journal of Chiropractic Medicine, September 2007;6:105-9.