

Medical Students Still Don't Know

Today's medical students are learning more about "alternative" care, but they still don't know the benefits of chiropractic. Senior medical students from five U.S. medical schools were asked to rate their knowledge of musculoskeletal specialties. The scale is 1 to 10, 10 being the most knowledgeable:

SOURCE: Abramson S, Stein J. Medical student referral patterns for musculoskeletal disorders. Am J Phys Med Rehabil 1998; 77: 235-242