

More Is Less – Barely

While the percentage of acute otitis media cases treated with high-dose antibiotics increased dramatically from 1996-2004, treatment failure and relapse rates declined only minimally.

SOURCE: Sox CM et al. Trends in otitis media treatment failure and relapse. Pediatrics, April 2008;121(4):674-9.