

Patients Want to Know!

A recent study found that three out of four patients want to be told by their medical physicians ALL the "possible adverse side effects" of medications prescribed to them.

This study clearly points to the significant level of concern patients have for the side effects of medications. If MDs do begin reviewing ALL potential side effects of the drugs they prescribe, it will dramatically increase the time spent with each patient.

SOURCE: Ziegler DK, Mosier MC, Buenaver M, Okuyemi K. How much information about adverse effects of medication do patients want from physicians? Arch Intern Med. 2001;161:706-713.