

DOs Not Doing Much Manipulation

A recent study revealed that osteopathic patients don't receive much "osteopathic manipulation treatment" (OMT):

According to this study, on average, only 18% of osteopathic patients received manipulation. These numbers seem to reflect the sad state of much of health care: the "give them a pill mentality" over hands-on care.

Johnson SM, Kurtz ME, Kurtz JC. Variables influencing the use of osteopathic manipulative treatment in family practice. JAOA, 1997; 97: 80-87.