

In Need of Your Help

A recent Consumer Reports survey shows that while most parents admit childhood obesity is a problem, many fail to recognize/admit the problem in their own children:

Note: Almost half of parents with significantly overweight children said their doctor did not suggest the need to lose weight.

SOURCE: Consumer Reports National Research Center.
Telephone survey conducted in June 2007.