

Prescription Drugs: No Good News to Report

But there is (more) disturbing news: a recent study suggests many teens share prescription medications with other teens, who then experience adverse side effects (perhaps intended) from taking the “borrowed” drugs:

SOURCE: Goldsworthy RC, Mayhorn CB. Prescription medication sharing among adolescents: prevalence, risks and outcomes. Journal of Adolescent Health; published online Aug. 3, 2009.